

3D-Coyote

See website for current pricing.

This menacing predator replica frightens geese, birds and other small pests away from open outdoor areas.

- Design and moving fur tail gives lifelike presence
- Visible from every angle for up to one acre
- Aside from moving the unit occasionally, no maintenance is required

The "3D" structure makes the decoy visible from every angle, making it more effective than a traditional coyote silhouette cardboard cutout. It can also be effective at much longer ranges than sound machines, since bird vision is generally strong and can spot predators at great distances.

Customer Testimonial

Last winter, for the first time, we experienced a visit from a local flock of Canadian geese in our back yard. I ordered the 3D Coyote and it arrived within 4 days. I put it on display for the geese immediately and they abandoned our yard and stayed away for the rest of the winter. This winter, a couple weeks ago, they were back and I placed the coyote on the same spot the geese selected to hang out in our yard. Shortly after displaying the coyote the geese slowly departed over a period of one hour. They have not been back since. I make it a point to move the coyote every couple days a few feet in different directions, but keep it in the same general area. It works very efficiently for us, but now I've noticed the geese congregating in a neighbor's yard about 1/4 mile away. He's considering getting one too.
