Dear Mr. Stoufer;

I am returning to you the label from the sample package of bird repelling ribbon you gave me a few weeks ago when I told you of the trouble I was having with a woodpecker destroying my wooden mailbox. After repairing the mailbox, I hung several strips of the ribbon below the box in a position where they could blow freely in the wind. Since that time there has been no further damage to the mailbox so I must assume the ribbon worked. I don't know if it will work in all cases but it worked in mine. Thank you very much for your help.

Sincerely,
