Subject: rodent problem solved

Dear Bird-X,

When you said you were the bird and pest control experts I was skeptical - a company that's only been in business for 40 plus years outsmarting birds and pests that have been around much longer?! I needed to solve the problem of a huge mouse infestation in the kitchen in my parents' home. Since it was for my parents, I was particularly concerned about diseases from rodent droppings, as well as the possibility of mom or dad slipping on the droppings. I am so happy with my choice, your Transonic PRO. It repelled the mice quickly and efficiently, and best of all, it was a one-time purchase that will save me from future expenditures on pest control contractors, poisons, baits, etc.

Thanks for the product and the great service,

Allan
